Finance Professionals Network

Bringing the experts to you...
A new initiative for local finance professionals.

In today's rapidly changing business environment the role of a finance professional goes well beyond accounting and has evolved to not only include compliance, but more importantly that of a strategic partner and advisor. You will be called upon to wear multiple hats - from effectively working with the board of directors and other stakeholders to identifying and assessing profitable business ventures, establishing partnerships and alliances and determining strategic growth strategies.

Without easy access to professional development and training, CFO's, aspiring CFO's and Finance Managers find it increasingly demanding to balance their conflicting strategic and operational responsibilities. That's where the Lawler Partners Finance Professionals Network can add value.

Our educational program is Hunter based and offers relevant professional development to qualified finance professionals in commerce in the form of interactive, commercially oriented seminars and discussion groups.

With half day workshops that are technically based with a practical application and a networking lunch, our program will minimise the time that you are away from your office whilst allowing you to earn valuable CPE hours.

You no longer need to travel to Sydney to hear high calibre and professional speakers in their field or to network with other finance professionals, so why would you?
